

EAA AirVenture Oshkosh

“The World’s Greatest Aviation Celebration”

July 23-29, 2007 – Wittman Regional Airport

Oshkosh, Wisconsin USA

Imagine a celebration of flight that includes...

- ❑ An attendance of 650,000 coming from 70 nations...
- ❑ More than 4,000 volunteer EAA members, creating their own marvelous annual convention and welcoming flight enthusiasts from around the world...
- ❑ Some 10,000 aircraft from every state and many other countries, winging to Oshkosh to be a part of the ultimate aviation experience...
- ❑ More than 2,500 pristine show aircraft, ranging from innovative homebuilts to stately vintage airplanes, powerful warbirds to wispy ultralights and more, all competing for awards that recognize the best of the best...
- ❑ A source of innovation and inspiration, as the latest design and technology is showcased in aircraft and associated products...
- ❑ A small Wisconsin airport that becomes the busiest airport in the world for an entire week...
- ❑ A new city springing up on the airport grounds, increasing Oshkosh’s population by more than 50 percent, as more than 30,000 people set up camp in tents, travel trailers and next to their own airplanes...
- ❑ More than 800 commercial exhibitors, featuring everything from an aviation T-shirt to the new airplane to match it...
- ❑ Hundreds of international media drawn to the people and airplanes that make this place the annual homecoming for all of aviation...
- ❑ A place where everyone speaks the same dialect: The language of flight...

There’s nothing like it in the world -- It’s part air show, part trade show, part educational workshop and (the biggest part) a family reunion for everyone who flies or dreams of it!

Welcome to EAA AirVenture Oshkosh!
